Venus in Aquarius represents a sense of harmony with the universe as a whole; positive outlook and attitudes, associations through friendship.

Jupiter in Aquarius represents the urge to extend and expand, satisfaction, harmony, the faculty to survey the whole; consciousness of a specific goal.

The principle of the Sun/Moon/Mercury/Venus/Jupiter Conjunct is:

Spirit and soul, the conscious and unconscious, vitality and feeling, bringing about harmonious character, inner balance, the making of contacts with partners and friends, joint success. Harmonious coorindation between spiritual and emotional as well as masculine/feminine; sound mental and emotional dispositions; desire for joint endeavor.

The Sun sextile Uranus, the ruler of Aquarius, represents the probable manifestations of development of progressive minds, originality and the conscious concentration upon an objective or aim with farseeing minds.

The Moon square Mars represents the manifestation of strong wills, intensified by feeling and enterprises started with vigour.

Pluto sextile Neptune. In this particular configuration of planets, we find Neptune, the higher or spiritual mind, in harmonious aspect with Pluto, the planet of change. Pluto has also been attributed with the attribute of being able to bring influences that enable individuals to see both the past and the future as though standing on a bridge of time.

Pluto will begin a retrograde cycle on February 9. Pluto is the planet of revolutionary change and ideas - removing of the old, rather dramatically, to make way for the new. From the period of 2/9/86 to 7/15/86, individuals involved in the project will find themselves carefully and slowly evaluating the information being given. At the end of this time, it will seem as though each has been dramatically changed and ready to move forward in new and unique ways.

Mars/Saturn conjunction relates to correspondence of groups, endurance, strength and indefatigablness.

In addition to all of the indicators for Voyager, Feburary 9, 1986, brings a New Moon, a period of time to begin new ventures for growth and success. The New Moon brings fresh thoughts and amibtions and is a fertile and ambitious time to sow the seeds of new beginnings.
