Audio: Become the Christ, Be the Example

LAMA SING: In the Earth plane, the mind, the conscious self, finds joy in the culmination of works; in the Spiritual realms, all works are Known for their complete process — a work which is begun Here is already completed the instant it is started. Therefore, there is never a phase, a step which is without the joy of its conclusion, its fruition.

You can learn to do that, to think in those terms, and to live in those terms. You can learn to live the Law. You can learn to apply it because you now know what it is, its breadth and depth and formidable strength. All those qualities have been given to you, and you have but forgotten them for a moment, or perhaps have been distracted by forces which are called, collectively, the temporal, or the illusion.

In the Earth you are progressed to a point which you have called a quickening in past. You will recall it? This period in the Earth affords you opportunities beyond your mind's comprehension. In conjunction with such periods in the Earth, there is always given that which the seeker will need or can use, to accelerate their growth rapidly: There has been given that material which, when taken into group study, clarifies a search for God; there has been given that information which enables the true seeker to again, as individuals and as a group, to know what miracles they can expect and have a right to perform ... And to those works of beauty and of good stead, we humbly offer these:

A brotherhood formed around the ideal of sharing — concept of the Soul being Limitless and, therefore, all souls being One. And from the essence of this concept, we recognize the need for the individual and group guidance in the living of these Truths: There is the need in the Earth for the example.

The materials are present in many ways, the information has been given in many tongues, and in accordance with many belief structures. Now we are suggesting to all of you that you consider becoming the example of those Truths. See?

How can you do this? By building on the foundation of what has already been gained. By taking all knowledge, respecting it, and looking for the thread of truth, of continuity, which passes through it. Bearing forth as the result an awakening within self; and by sharing, one with the other, your tears and your laughter alike, giving strength to that birth within self which shall be called a true Child of God.

If you are limited, then become unlimited. It is your choice.

If it is sought after Here, we will offer information which will now build on all that has been given, to provide suggestions, to provide what you would call exercises, and all that sort, so as to allow you to exemplify these Truths.

You are all likened unto a good mason whom has acquired great stones of beauty, and your yard wherein you contain these stones is filled to abundance with them. And yet, you build not.

Now, we suggest that you begin the process of building. The foundation is in place, you have been awakened, you have begun to realize your tTue Nature. Each day, step by step, the pathway awaits you.

Should you go forward from this point? How can you turn back; how can you not know and seek what lies ahead?

Ask yourself just these few simple questions: Do I believe — indeed, truly believe — that I am a Child of God? Do I believe that the Law Universal is within my power to know and to use in God's N ame? Do I know how to do this?

Well, certainly, all of the above are known in the intellectual sense. But it would appear, dear friends, when it comes to applying same in daily life, therein the difficulties are encountered. While we cannot make you See, and we cannot make you do certain things, we can encouragingly support you, surround you with love and prayer, and make every attempt that we are permitted within the Law to let you s ee what lies ahead. To let you know the potential that awaits you. Do you see?

We have spoken much about the Law: that to know the Law is to know God. But to become the Christ is to learn to live the Law, to be the example of it. — 19880203
